School of Health and Human Sciences
Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders

CSD 219.02: Communication Disorders Laboratory
Spring 2022 COURSE SYLLABUS

Primary Instructor: Kelly Harrington, AP Associate Professor
Pronouns: she/her/hers

Office: 309 Ferguson Building

Phone: 336-334-3924

E-mail: ktharrin@uncg.edu

Credits: 1 credit hour

Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor; Enrollment is open throughout the semester for UNC Greensboro students and faculty. Consortium students may only add the course during their university's "add" period with permission from both schools.

Textbook: No textbook required.

For Whom Intended: Supervised treatment/instruction for currently enrolled UNC Greensboro and Greater Greensboro Consortium students, as well, as currently full-time employed UNC Greensboro faculty and staff with disorders of speech, voice, fluency and language (spoken and written). UNC Greensboro faculty and staff should refer to Tuition Waiver Instructions for information about the tuition waiver program.

Course Description: This course entails supervised therapy/instruction provided by a graduate student in the UNC Greensboro Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders under the strict supervision of CSD clinic faculty members who are state-licensed and nationally-certified speech-language pathologists (i.e., SLPs). Scheduling for clients enrolled in the course is determined by the supervising SLP.

Learning Outcomes: The learning outcomes are based on each participant's needs and assessment results. Long-term and short-term goals are mutually determined with each client.

Teaching Strategies: Teaching strategies are individually tailored. This course will be taught through a combination of class lectures, oral exercises, student presentations, individualized small group instruction, and homework assignments.

Evaluation Methods and Assignments: Progress is determined by the participant's performance on short-term goals, as evidenced by data collection and clinical observations throughout the semester. Progress is documented in a written report at the end of the semester and a grade of Pass or Fail is assigned. The grade of Pass will be given if the student has actively participated in the instructional process, worked diligently toward meeting the established long- and short-term goals, and has adhered to the attendance policy. Homework assignments are individually determined by the graduate clinician and supervisor.

Academic Honor Policy: Clients are expected to adhere to the UNC Greensboro Academic Integrity Policy located in the UNC Greensboro Student Policy Handbook under Student Code of Conduct at <http://sa.UNC.Greensboro.edu/handbook/student-code-of-conduct/>.

Health and Wellness

Your health impacts your learning. Throughout your time in college, you may experience a range of health issues that can cause barriers to your learning. These might include physical ailments, illnesses, strained relationships, anxiety, high levels of stress, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, or loss of motivation. Student Health Services and The Counseling Center can help with these or other issues you may be experiencing. You can learn about the free, confidential mental health services available on campus by calling 336-334-5874, visiting the website at <https://shs.UNCG.edu/> or visiting the Anna M. Gove Student Health Center at 107 Gray Drive. Help is always available.

Academic Accommodations

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro respects and welcomes students of all backgrounds and abilities. If you feel you will encounter any barriers to full participation in this course due to the impact of a disability, please contact the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS). The OARS staff can meet with you to discuss the barriers you are experiencing and explain the eligibility process for establishing academic accommodations. You can learn more about OARS by visiting their website at <https://ods.UNCG.edu/> or by calling 336-334-5440 or visiting them in Suite 215, EUC.

Any requests for special accommodations must come through the OARS office with the appropriate paperwork.

Attendance Policy: Clients are required to attend all sessions or schedule a make-up session for absences. There should be no more than two absences unrelated to illness or an emergency (i.e., excused). Excessive absences may result in a failing grade or a grade of incomplete for the course. Clients are required to notify the Speech and Hearing office (336 334-5939) or the instructor (336 334-3924) in advance of their session, if they are unable to attend.

Clients are expected to arrive on time for sessions and remain in the lobby of the third floor of the Ferguson Building until their clinician greets them. If a participant is more than 15 minutes late for a session and has not called in advance of the session, the session will be cancelled automatically and the absence will be considered unexcused. Clients given UNC Greensboro Speech and Hearing Center parking permits may park in the Center's designated parking spaces behind the Ferguson Building.

Pronoun usage: Pronouns are words that a person may use to identify themselves instead of their chosen name. For example, she/her/hers and he/him/his are typically feminine and masculine pronouns, respectively. However, some feel more comfortable with gender-neutral pronouns. The most common gender-neutral pronouns are they/them/theirs, used in the singular to refer to an individual in a way that isn't gendered. Please let me know if you prefer to be addressed by pronouns other than those typically used in the singular.

Technical Support:

Students with technical issues with the course and email should contact 6-TECH for support either by email or phone or chat (6TECH Help). Please also make your instructor aware of the issue and if there will be any delays in resolving the issue.

COVID-19 Statement:

As we return for spring 2022, the campus community must recognize and address continuing concerns about physical and emotional safety, especially as we will have many more students, faculty, and staff on campus than in the last academic year. As such, all students, faculty, and staff are required to uphold UNCG's culture of care by actively engaging in behaviors that limit the spread of COVID-19. Such actions include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Following face-covering guidelines
- Engaging in proper hand-washing hygiene when possible
- Self-monitoring for symptoms of COVID-19
- Staying home if you are ill
- Complying with directions from health care providers or public health officials to quarantine or isolate if ill or exposed to someone who is ill.

Instructors will have seating charts for their classes. These are important for facilitating contact tracing should there be a confirmed case of COVID-19. Students must sit in their assigned seats at every class meeting and must not move furniture. Students should not eat or drink during class time.

A limited number of disposable masks will be available in classrooms for students who have forgotten theirs. Face coverings will also be available for purchase in the UNCG Campus Bookstore. Students who do not follow masking requirements will be asked to put on a face covering or leave the classroom to retrieve one and only return when they follow the basic requirements to uphold standards of safety and care for the UNCG community. Once students have a face covering, they are permitted to re-enter a class already in progress. Repeated issues may result in conduct action. The course policies regarding attendance and academics remain in effect for partial or full absence from class due to lack of adherence with face covering and other requirements.

For instances where the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS) has granted accommodations regarding wearing face coverings, students should contact their instructors to develop appropriate alternatives to class participation and/or activities as needed. Instructors or the student may also contact OARS (336.334.5440) who, in consultation with Student Health Services, will review requests for accommodations.

Legal Notice for Zoom and Course Recordings:

Some portions of this course will be recorded so that those students who are unable to attend can review material at a later date. If you are participating via zoom and do not wish to be recorded, please turn off your camera and mute your microphone. You may still use the chat to participate and we will not archive the chat. Please note that only the main room, not breakout rooms, will be recorded. If you are attending this course in person and do not wish to be recorded, please advise me of that, and all efforts will be made not to record your participation.
